CUI-CON

Did you hear?! HanaByte is an official TOP SECRET SPONSOR for CUI-CON this year! CUI-CON's goal is to assist Department of Defense contractors in their implementation of NIST SP 800-171 and to prepare for their Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC) Conformity Assessment. This organization brings experts across the country together to help link clients to solutions and offer educational opportunities in the process. Keep in mind that this conference is an in-person-only event, so be sure to register for tickets today to connect with our team! The conference will be held at the Meydenbauer Conference Center in Bellevue, Washington. HanaByte will have a booth with cool new swag items so be sure to stop by, converse with our team, and collect some of our limited-edition goods!

Paws Atlanta

The Ohana was out in the Hotlanta sun this month for our Q3 Volunteer collaboration! As a company with a precious family member as our mascot, the team was eager to help out an animal shelter in their local community. The HanaByte team voted on PAWS Atlanta as their first shelter collaboration. PAWS Atlanta is a completely volunteer-run independent organization that started as the DeKalb Humane Society in 1966. Their philosophy is to be a no-kill shelter, where every animal would stay until they could find a new home. In 2002, the establishment renamed themselves to PAWS Atlanta. They are Atlanta's oldest no-kill animal shelter and have helped to find homes for over 49,000 animals. This event left a deep impression on our team as they got to understand the importance of PAWS Atlanta's commitment to their cause, the kindness of each staff member, and care for the animals while they await their fur-ever homes.
